HERE'S YOUR ANSWER.

No, Mr. Olson, we do not believe that the political affiliations of the different judges who have passed upon the merits of these contest cases has had anything to do with their decisions. That is apparent because, while belonging to three different parties, the whole number, or six, have been unanimous in their findings. (Is that "significant"?)

Neither do we expect or need a political decision from the Supreme court and have no sympathy with those who do. (Also significant.)

You are doubtless unable to comprehend it, but this matter is of far more importance than any personal advantage. We desire and expect these cases to be decided upon their merits, according to the record already made, and fully believe the decisions will be affirmed.

Should they not be confirmed we will have too much respect for the court's decision and ourselves to try to evade its effect by the subterfuge of a holdover or the force of barricades. (More significant.)

If you wish us to thresh any more old straw "please answer" your own question and say whether you have had or expect to get a political decision. (Most significant.)

We expect a unanimous decision from the judges of the Supreme court and should it not be entirely to our liking through our blunders or our failures in the presentation of our cases we will not belittle ourselves by charging the effect of our lapses to the political opinion of the court. Finally, you will take notice that we are doing nothing to retard the settlement of the affair, all of which is "significant" by contrast with the actions of your self and friends from the beginning of the cases to the end of Hutzel's "opinion."

Wedding Bells at Collyer.

At 7:30 p. m. on May 9th, there was assembled in the parlor of the Collyer hotel about forty of the relatives and immediate friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hickman to witness the marriage of their daughter Edna to Mr. Edward Guschewsky.

The room was tastefully decorated with pictures and growing plants. As the moment approached, Mrs. Lillian Bower began the wedding march. Near the close of the selection Rev. A. L. Hobbs entered followed by Mr. Charles Hickman and Miss Lillie Orr who preceded the bride and groom. The march being completed as they take their positions. A short and impressive ceremony was then repeated by Rev. Hobbs. After congratulations were extended the couple repaired to the dining room where a most bounteous repast was served. When all had succeeded in supplying the wants of the inner man they once more returned to the parlor and the evening was spent in social converse and music.

May long life and happiness be the lot of the happy couple is the wish of your correspondent.

Attention Graduates.

I want a photograph of the Trego county common school graduating class of 1897 and hope to have it include all the twenty-three members. I make a personal request of each of you to be present if possible at the exercises at Wa-Keeneey, Friday afternoon, May 21, at which time the photo will be made, probably at the court house. This, I think, will be the most convenient time, as the graduating exercises of the Wa-Keeneey members will be held that evening and it will be of considerable advantage to the Ogallah and Collyer members to be present. Teachers and parents of graduates are asked to lend their assistance as it will be a disappointment if any are absent.

Those who wish copies of the picture can make arrangements with the photographer.

Death of Clemens Young.

Mr. Clemens Young died at his home in the southwest part of Trego county at 6 o'clock on the morning of May 10th, of heart disease of which he was a sufferer for a number of years.

The deceased was in town last Saturday for the first time in five years.

Mr. Young was born in Wirtenburg, Germany, September 28, 1826.

He came to America in 1852 and was united in marriage to Elenora Braun in Rock Island, Ill., June 2, 1855. He was the father of six children, all who survive him—Mrs. Thomas J. Reddig, of Rock Island, Ill.; Mrs. George S. Downing, of Moline, Ill.; and George, Otto and Robert Young, also Mrs. C. L. Garrigues, all residents of Trego county.

The deceased was a stone cutter by trade at which he worked several years. He then went into business and in 1880 sold out to come to Kansas to go into the stock raising business which he followed ever since.

He was a member of the I. O. O. F. Rock Island Lodge No. 18, was taken in charge by the Utica lodge and buried in the Utica cemetery. His was a continuous membership in the lodge for thirty years. He was one of main promoters of the Rock Island Volks Zeitung and the German and English school of Rock Island.

The deceased was one of the pioneers of Trego county, and had a large circle of friends in Trego and Ness county.

The WORLD and his many friends join in extending the bereaved family their heartfelt sympathy.

I will say that I owe the patrons of the district a debt of gratitude for the respect shown me and the agreeable surprise the last day.

I think it a good example for other districts to follow, because it encourages the teacher to do more for the school.

In going to and from school, this term, I have driven 2040 miles.

E. K. WESTOVER, teacher.
